Feet affect the development of the entire body.

That's why we make shoes that start children off on the right foot.

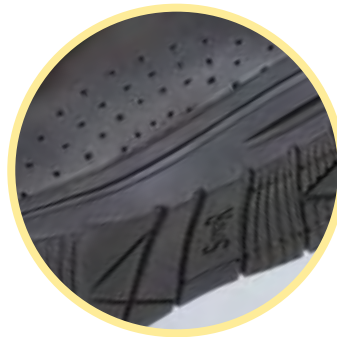

Biomechanics

Feet are fantastic, fantastically important

We make shoes for children. That's all we do. From thermal analysis of feet, to measuring forces and movements during play; we are constantly exploring children's biomechanics through all stages of childhood.

Air-Rite technology

We know exactly where children's feet get hot and have innovated our designs to allow air to flow to the right area. These designs support the body's natural temperature regulation system whilst allowing the shoe to cope with a variety of terrains and weather conditions.

Natural support

Children's feet perform differently as they grow, and our lasts are made precisely for each stage of development. Our shoes are built to ensure their feet can move naturally through every adventure.

Natural flexibility

Our biomechanically engineered soles with bespoke flexibility are designed to move as the natural foot would at each stage as feet grow. A smart flexible toe area and footbeds mirror the flex grooves on the soles, offering spring and breathability.

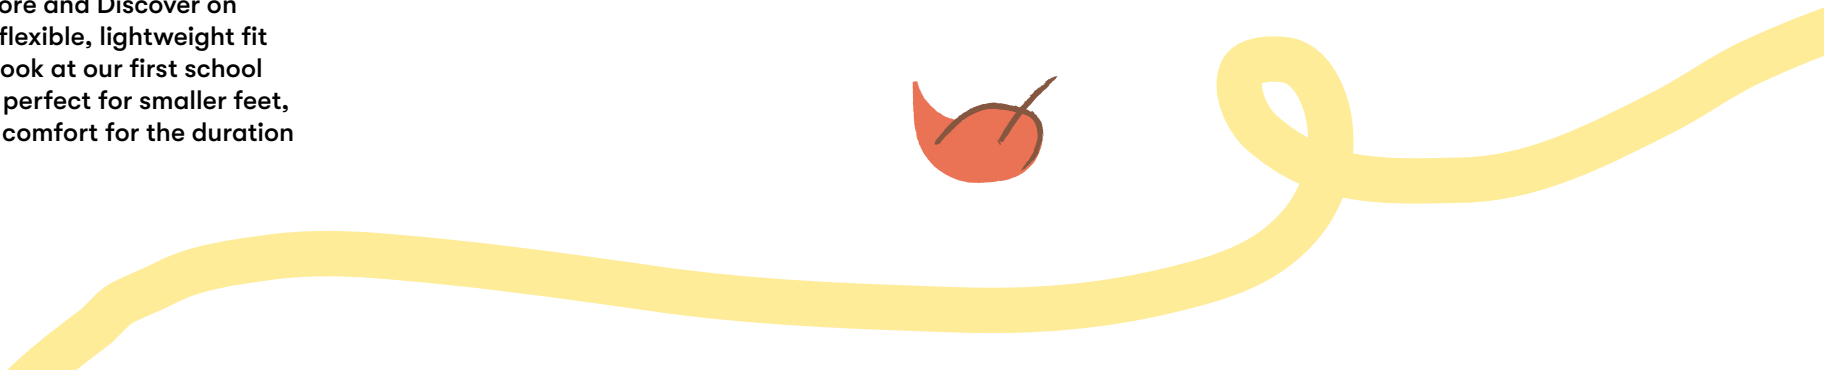

Inspiration

Inspired by nature and the great outdoors, our autumn/winter 2021 collection brings elegant tones and patterns with exciting accents and pops of colour across each age category.

Our in house designs compliment children's lifestyles and add fun to their everyday adventures. Beetle blues, harvest golds and berry purples are juxtaposed with misty pastels and botanical greens for a cosy autumnal feel. Herringbone, tweed and floral detailing offer a nod to nostalgia and a luxe feel. Our new otter character brings a playful splash to pre-walker shoes while frosty glitter patents and shimmery metallics add a sense of fun for little feet.

Stylish and robust for feet on the move, our boots collection combines favourite designs in fresh colour twists alongside new styles. Our classic Chelsea boot is available in new patent and metallic colourways and we introduce the Angry Angels Icon and Revolution boots; fashion and durability combined in a chunky style for older girls. Chuckle, Explore and Discover on our new sole unit offer a flexible, lightweight fit in a casual style. Take a look at our first school shoes collection which is perfect for smaller feet, offering practicality and comfort for the duration of the school day.
